

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XIX.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1891.

NO. 74

CRAB ORCHARD.

—J. S. Edmonson has returned from Panama.

—Prof. S. B. Magee's school at Turkey Town closed last week with a big report.

—We are informed that Messrs. McClure & Napier will start a roller in it at this place.

—Miss Annie Sigler went home with her brother to Indiana. W. A. Cason has returned from Louisville.

—There were 34 prohibition votes cast in this precinct, 23 of whom believe in witchery, and the whole lot believe that the sun moves and the earth stands still.

—Our old townsman, Col. Jesse Christen, was in town last Saturday and is talking of moving his family back here. We give him a cordial invitation and assure him that he will be welcomed to all.

—The G. A. R.'s organization some time since at this place, and we are informed by a proponent, who is one of the members, at the second meeting that they held they had taken on so much "red-eye" that they could not transact business, and have never had a quorum since.

—Mrs. Matilda Tapp has declined moving to Rowland and will remain here, to the delight of the many friends. The man Erbe Delaney, who came from Texas to this place to get into the peach house, has received a pension and will return to Texas. Bill Ballard, the celebrated pugilist, has returned from Illinois.

—One of H. G. Slaughter's clerks sold a pair of boots, price $2.50, for $1.75, but the colonel held him responsible for the mistake and made him look over the difference, which was 75 cents. This is the same young man who clerked for Henry Fish and sold a large pile of hams for shoulders. The same clerk would not sell two balls of broom twine, but kept one ball so as to keep in stock.

—Several convicts passed through town the other day and one poor fellow with a broken heart and bleeding feet fed by the wayside and was captured by four gallant young men, viz. Willie Pettus, Walter Beasley, Sam and Joe Magee, but the crowd wasn't able to give him his supper and the poor fellow received his liberty. Since this capture they have all applied for positions on Pinkerton's detective force.

—The opponents to the graded school have declined the idea of bringing suit to set the election aside. At the time of the election we were opposed to the school, but since the tax has been voted and we are among the heaviest taxpayers, we are now in favor of building a nice brick building that will be an ornament to the town, and not in favor of having that old God forsaken, dilapidated college building, that has no foundation and is liable to fall at any time upon our children.

—The egg market is attracting more attention here than anything else. Col. Slaughter began the boom by hanging out his sign that he would pay 15 cents per dozen for them. Soon other merchants hung out the same sign, then Slaughter raised to 20 and the other merchants raised to 22 cents. To every one's surprise the following sign appeared: "Ha! Ha! Change your signs! 30 cents for eggs to cash! H. C. Dunham." But when Col. Slaughter took his 20 dozen around to him, Dunham informed him that he meant goose eggs.

Good Boys and Girls.

Following are the names of pupils of Crab Orchard School, who are 90 per cent and over in deportment and attendance for the month ending Nov. 16, 1901: David Holman 98, Maurice Perkins 94, Henry Bastin 98, Joe Bailey 94, Andrew Billions 92, George DeBorde 95, Willie White 91, Samuel Pryor 94, Carpenter Stuart 94, Andrew Buchanan 95, Albert Newland 90, Phil Pettus 95, Martha Holman 95, Susie Higgins 95, Annie Bonham 94, Susie Magee 92, Ada Fowler 94, Lizzie Stephens 91, Lizzie Beasley 94, Alice Moore 95, Hannah M. Hall 95, Nannie Edmonson 98, Lacie Billion 91, George Bonough 94, John DeBorde 95, Henry DeBorde 91, Joe Payne 95, Rose Perkins 92, James Payne 91, Jeff Holman 90, Beulah Carson 97, Susie Dillon 95, Eva Bailey 98, Annie M. Stephens 95, Ha Holman 97, Birdie Jones 95, Kathie Bonough 90, John Goodwick 92, Pennington Moore 90.

—Gov. Boies' majority over Wheeler, for governor of Iowa, is $200. The other democratic candidates elected are Bestow, Lieutenant Governor; Kinnes, Judge, and Deys, Railroad Commissioner.

HUSTONVILLE.

—The late close call Danville had by incursion is yet the topic and the nervous feel certain that she and is threatening.

—The wheat fields are growing heavily since the rains and a few weeks of favorable surroundings will put it materially different aspect in the wheat prospects of '92.

—The meetings at the Christian church continue and increase in interest. The largest attendance since the dedication of the church was in regular attendance. Mr. Thorpe is an extremely entertaining speaker.

—It was a puzzle to our side walk population that the roller mill water wagon continued its regular trips as late as last Friday, after the raging flood had resumed its agitation of sand and pebbles on shadow places. Pumps out of order and pipes plugged out of the supply of corn meal.

—Duck Shinnate, jailer at Danville, was greeted by a negro prisoner last Saturday morning whilst making his rounds of the corridors. The negro, Will Hansford, twice a convict, is in a cell with bright prospects of a third term. What motive prompted him to reach through the gated door and grab the jailer is a mystery, but a pistol ball which crashed through Wilham's jaw will necessitate a muzzling liquid diet for an indefinite length of time, as mastectomy is suspended.

—Hustonville is indebted to Waller Freeman's patriotism and enterprise for her approaching telegraphic connection with the little outside world. The poles were on the ground and a number of men digging the holes for them last week. After this issue your reporter can smile at the beautiful mail arrangements between here and Stanford and with thumb tip against nose give an exultant sweep of the fingers at every north-bound mail train.

—George Woolson and Billy Turpin are not quite so cordial at their meetings now. George has considerable good corn still in the field and Billy has an enterprising cow which has a pronounced weakness for good corn, as well as no scruples about whose corn furnishes her nocturnal lunches. George got tired of getting up in quest of an early worm, and finding that cow in his corn field every morning, and finally gave warning that if measures were not taken to stop her he'd be forced to act in self-defense. About dawn next morning that cow was taken to the hospital, loaded with six charges of small shot.

—Judge Condit's fame will probably lose him to this community. Repeated opportunities induced him to go to Cincinnati last week to hear propositions, but the hope is general that the West End will continue to offer superior advantages. A. K. Shewmaker and family, pioneers of the city of Moreland, have removed to Wilmore, Jessamine county, where their son Bertram is a valued employee of the Queen & Crescent. Mr. Keene, who has long been a modest but controlling railroad attaché at Moreland, has been transferred to heavier responsibilities at Junction City and every patron whose business has called him to the station since the change agrees that Moreland has drawn a big prize in Mr. Keene, who is now "holding things down" at the depot, with Bob Myers' valuable aid. Mr. C. T. Griggs, the miller, left a relay on a belief visit to relatives West. Three of Danville's distinguished citizens—a magistrate of renown, a banker of celebrity and a valedictorian bachelor of something less than five score and ten's wanderings—passed through on town the day after the rain with a wagon load of dogs, guns and lunch baskets, determined to clean up the lands in the suburbs of Liberty, but a careful and judicious best of all the most inviting covers developed the disappointing discovery that Judge Breckinridge's fangs either exterminated the supply or led to the precipitate migration to safer coverts. They will await the next census before determining the prospects of any reptilian Paradise.

The Chicago Herald calls attention to the fact that ex-President Cleveland has the distinction of being represented in "Bartlett's Familiar Quotations" along with Shakespeare, Milton, Thomas Jefferson and other great men. The latest edition contains the following from his pen: "After an existence of more than 20 years of almost innumerable demerits, these laws are brought forth."—Message, March 1, 1885.

"It is a condition which confronts us—not a theory."—Annual Message, 1887.

"I have considered the pension list of the republic a roll of honor."—Veto of Independent Pension Bill, July 1, 1888.

"Party honesty is partly expediency."—Newspaper interview, Sept. 9, 1889.

"A public office is a public trust," one of his best known political maxims, is not included.

—P. R. Pennington has been appointed postmaster at Oakley, Laurel county, vice J. C. Mullins resigned.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Dr. W. H. Anderson, D. D., Kentucky Conference Sunday-School agent, will preach at the Methodist church next Sunday.

—Elder Wallace Thorpe's meeting at the Hustonville Christian church continues with increasing interest and 20 or more additions.

—Sam Small, the evangelist, was assaulted by a saloon keeper at Atlanta and roughly doubled for recent harsh criticisms of the saloon keeper.

—The Elizabethtown News says that Rev. H. C. Morrison's meeting there resulted in 20 additions to the Methodist and a number to each of the other churches.

—After the 1st day of December the rectory of the Episcopal church will be vacant, as the rector, D. L. V. Moffett, has tendered his resignation, to take effect at that time. He will go to Sprague, Wash.—Register.

—The meeting at the Mt. Sterling Methodist Church South, closed Sunday night with 13 additions, but Rev. Joe Rand, of Lexington, went over Thursday to hold services with it over Sunday and perhaps longer.—Paris Kentuckian.

—Two new churches were dedicated at Louisville Sunday, the Westminster Presbyterian, corner First and Drumsdy Avenue, which cost $50,000 and the B. street Mission of the Walnut Street Baptist church. Dr. C. B. Hemphill officiated at the former, and Dr. Kerfoot, of the Theological Seminary, at the latter.

—The Salvation Army was started 25 years ago by a Methodist preacher, not in good standing with his conference, and his faithful wife. Now it has 2,900 barracks, 9,900 officers, a half million adherents and an annual revenue of $5,750,000. Its publications are in almost every language on the globe.

—The ladies of the Parsonage and Home Mission Society have presented the Methodist church with a handsome set of pulpit furniture, which has been received and placed in position. It consists of three large upholstered chairs and a walnut stand and is decidedly ornamental. God bless the women; they are always ahead in every good word and work.

—In Rev. George O. Barnes' new book, Credo and Credulity, this remarkable claim appears: "If man was made in God's likeness and image and was also male and female, it follows, logically, that God is male and female. Whether the double form of expression indicates correlation—image and likeness, male and female, I am not prepared to state, except in the most tentative manner, but Scripture and reason combine in asserting that God is male and female and the female side of the Godhead, if one may reverently use such a word, in such a connection, is ever represented by the Holy Ghost."

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Stetson, of Ottawa, Kan., have not spoken to each other for 20 years on account of a quarrel. Still they live together and are apparently happy.

—Brown's Valley, Ind., is terribly agitated over the elopement of Miss Nannie Goslin, the accomplished daughter of its wealthiest citizen, with an Indian amalgam. By this misalliance it appears that Miss Goslin has cooked her goose so far as the society of Brown's Valley is concerned.—Post.

Little Rock is exceptionally pleasant, if not a particularly profitable place to practice law. When Judge Vaughan concluded his able plea in defense of ex-Treasurer Woodruff, the defendant's handsome 20-year-old daughter seized the eloquent attorney by the hand and exclaiming, "Oh, Judge, how can we ever repay your kindness?" implanted a resounding kiss of gratitude upon his receding temples. And with a gallantry that marks him a grand old man, the Judge replied, "You have already repaid me and I will ever ask 'Now that is a law practice as is a law practice.'—Louisville Times.

A certain Sunday-school teacher in one of our Sunday-schools last Sunday, was greatly shocked by the following little dialogue which she had with one of her pupils of tender years.

Sunday-school Teacher—"And when the wicked children continued, mocking the good prophet two she bears came out of the mountain and ate up 40 of the children." Now, boys, what does this lesson teach us?

Young Pupil—"It teaches us how many children a she bear can hold."—Pineville Messenger.

The question came up one day last week at the treasury department as to the weight of a dollar bill. Scales of perfect accuracy were brought into requisition and the surprising discovery was made that 27 $1 notes weighed exactly as much as a $20 gold piece. The latter just balanced 540 grains. However, the bills weighed were perfectly crisp and new. Trial made with the soiled notes, such as come in every day for redemption, showed that 27 of them weighed considerably more than the $20 coin.—Wall Street Daily News.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—The front of the National Bank is being painted and the windows in the second story replaced.

—J. A. Cook and T. B. Robinson delivered 40 head of export cattle to Dick Gentry at Lancaster Saturday. Average 1,000, price 5 cents.

—On the 1st of January Mrs. M. E. Holmes will again take charge of Miller's Hotel. Geo. Mason advertises the Mason Hotel for rent.

—Some Richmond parties have brought the vacant lot in the north east corner of the Public Square and will shortly erect a brick livery stable on same.

—A protracted meeting begun at the Baptist church Sunday night. The services are conducted by Rev. Booth, of Taylorsville, assisted by Rev. Stout, the pastor.

—Garrard Lodge, No. 29, Knights of Pythias, will give a banquet at the Miller Hotel next Friday night in honor of the visiting members of the Stanford Lodge. An interesting and extensive programme will be prepared for the occasion and the whole thing is to be quite a tony thing throughout.

—Messrs. Estes and Graham, who reside near Bryansville, were arrested and placed in jail at Lancaster, Saturday, charged with burning livestock of wheat and a dwelling that was occupied as a residence. The trial is set for Tuesday, the 17th. There is said to be considerable excitement in the lower end of the county at the conduct of the house-burners and those who have been stretching wires across the turnpike at night, causing damages to horses, buggies and persons traveling upon the highway.

—Henry Beasley, Charley Owens and Quinn Palmer, of color, were arrested and tried for shooting Bill Farris Friday the 13th. It was proven on the trial that Owens was drunk and raised a difficulty, striking Henry Beasley several times with a rock. Beasley fired at Owens, but missed him and struck Bill Farris. Owens swore that he was so drunk that he didn't know what he was doing and had no recollection whatever as to what occurred. Upon a hearing of the whole case the defendants were dismissed by Judge Robinson, and Owens was turned over to the town authorities for trial upon the charge of drunkenness. Farris was slightly wounded and will recover.

—The community was shocked by learning that at about 9 o'clock on Sunday morning Mr. Benjamin Leavell, a farmer who resides within some three miles of Lancaster, committed suicide in a fit of temporary insanity. He has been quite unwell for some months and was closely watched and kindly cared for by his family and friends. A short time after breakfast he went, in company with his son, a youth of about 15 years, to the residence of a Mr. Mosier, a blacksmith, who resides within about a mile of his residence, and told Mr. Mosier that he felt that if he had a squirrel or some game of some sort he would resist it and borrowing a shot gun that was loaded started towards the woods or fields. He had gone only a short distance when he discharged the contents of the gun into his head, killing him instantly. He was a good citizen and his death is a severe blow to his family, with whom the people universally sympathize.

—While getting out of a wagon with a gun at Wilmore, Wm. R. Dunn slipped and the weapon was discharged, almost tearing his left arm off. He died in a few hours from the shock.

—The Knights of Labor have adopted resolutions looking to a settlement of their differences with the Federation of Labor. If this action be accepted by the Federation it will result in the practical union of over 600,000 laboring men.

—The Earl of Derby holds the largest life insurance in the world, $5,000,000. Next comes Mr. Wanmaker, whose policies of $5,250,000 exceed that of the Earl of all the Russians by $254,001. Fourth comes the Prince of Wales, whose life is insured for $2,525,000.

—D. P. Arnold, of Frankfort, knocked the stinking out of Bob Breckinridge, son of the congressman, after he found that nothing else would do him. The fight occurred at Lexington on the night of the governor's ball and two spale tails were rendered useless for future wear.

First Step in Love.—Cora—"Did you ever go to a fortune teller's?" Merritt—"Yes, my dear, I went to Bradstreet's to find out about my father's fortune."—The Epoch.

Cedar Grove Stock Farm
Mr. J. T. Mook, of Danville, says, "I can cheerfully recommend Quin's Ointment to all horse-men as the very best remedy in use; would not be without it." For colic, splints, sprains, wind-puffs and enlargement give it a trial.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Mr. J. A. Allen went to Lebanon yesterday. R. C. Warren, Esq., has gone to Louisville. Judge J. A. Layle has been very ill with a heart trouble.

Mrs. G. L. Heyman, of Carlisle, is visiting Mrs. Max Maden.

Miss M. C. Campbell, of Texas, is the guest of Mrs. P. W. Green.

Miss M. J. Hickman, of Somerset, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Eugene Kelley.

Miss M. E. Davison and Miss Mary Davison are visiting in Shelby City.

Mr. A. C. Alford writes that he has secured a good job at Knoxville and orders his paper to be sent there.

Miss L. P. Burrell, of Louisville, was on her first visit home since her marriage and is looking unusually well.

Mrs. Jennie Dunn, who has a large music class at Monticello, was up to see her parents and child last week.

Sam Hicks is a candidate for mayor of Somerset and his Stanford friends hope that his ambition will be realized.

Messrs. T. P. Hill, M. C. Sanley, J. W. Alford and P. M. McRoberts went up to the London circuit court yesterday.

Ray, W. E. Arnold returned with his wife Saturday and they are at Mr. S. S. Myers' till satisfactory board can be obtained.

Rev. A. H. Reid and wife have taken rooms at Mr. J. B. Alford's. Mrs. Reid is the noted teacher of elocution and will try to get a class here.

A very lovely and charming quiet little girl, Mrs. B. W. James, Misses Elma and Kate Baker, Eugene Pugh and Lizzie and Ella Dunn.

Con. L. E. Hume went up yesterday to have surveyed a boundary of 10,000 acres of land in Leland and Polaski that he recently sold to a company of Englishmen.

Mr. J. E. Kikelen, of the Rowland dispatcher's office, has gone to take his place on the Carlin branch, while he goes to attend the bedside of his very sick mother.

Mrs. M. A. Hocker and Mr. Allen Logan returned from Kansas City Sunday, where Mrs. Hocker has been visiting her son, R. W. Hocker, in whose bank Allen is employed.

Mr. O. K. Wassumser, editor of the Wine and Spirit Bulletin, was here yesterday en route to Silver Creek, after having obtained advertisements from all the distilleries between here and Louisville.

I. S. Emsley, Jr., has been mysteriously missing for a week. He said he was going to Washington, but as he took along his best clothes, including his spade-tail, there appears to be a woman in the case.

Mr. John A. McRoberts left for Corbin Sunday night to take the position of sealed car clerk there. He has been with the L. & N. a long time and the officers recognizing what a good man he is do not let him stay out of a job long.

Squire T. M. Plessinger and wife ask us to return their heartfelt thanks to the good citizens who worked so hard to save their property and to the loving friends who have extended them such lavish hospitalities since their misfortune.

Mr. L. M. Lantry is at home from Chicago, where he has his string of racers. They have done well this season, but owing to a severe attack of rheumatism, laying him up in the hospital for a month, he has not been able to give them the attention he otherwise would have.

The Louisville Times of Friday contained pictures of Capt. J. C. Bryant and his handsome wife. The captain commands the Brown Light Infantry, which gave a grand military ball to Gov. Brown at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington, Friday night, and to him is due much of the grand success of the occasion.

Mr. L. T. Lantry, who has been clerking for A. A. Warren for several years, has been notified of his appointment to the position of railway mail clerk between Louisville and Knoxville. He stood a very fine examination last spring and passed the civil service requirements with credit. He is a steady and capable young man and we are sure he will make a good mail manipulator.

CITY AND VICINITY.

New line of beautiful wall paper at W. B. McRoberts.

Bainbridgeville suffered a severe fire Sunday morning. It caught in the back of T. M. Sampson's store and in two hours six buildings, including the post-office, the Cumberland Valley Bank and a dwelling house, were in ashes. Col. John Dishman lost his house and furniture. The total loss is $22,650, with only $8,400 insurance.

SHRUBLED OATS for sale at Farris & Harbin's.

RAIN and snow is predicted for Tuesday, with a cold wave at night.

A NEW pavement is being laid along Court Square and the Opera House to the St. Amph.

New stock of meat cutters, sausage stufers, lard cans and butcher knives at J. B. Foster's.

The Richmond Register sneers at W. Dawson's eagle and says it has one foot from tip to tip.

For Rent.—Residence now occupied by W. M. Higgins. Apply to John M. McRoberts, Sr.

Look.—One thousand yards of assorted prints at 51 cents a yard at J. M. Martin's Store, Maywood.

McGINTY will be with us to night. Don't fail to see the Indiana troubles that ever beset him and laugh yourself fat.

Our drummer friend, Capt. R. E. Roberts, drops into poetry with the case of a veteran. See his contribution on the 14th page.

The young men of the Merry Bachelors Hop Club are preparing to give a grand masquerade ball on Wednesday night before Thanksgiving.

THOMAS PURVIS BRIGHT is the name of a young man who, last Saturday, came to stay with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bright. He is a very promising youngster and a happier pair never rejoiced over a first born.

McGINTY'S Troubles will agitate the amusement lovers at Walton's Opera House tonight. The Dublin Town Band in the funniest of uniforms will give a parade and concert at 2 p. m. Do not fail to see both the free and the pay performance.

Fifty seem to be determined to stop the illegal whisky traffic in Danville and every good man will say amen, that of foundations of civilization were laid, and most of the violators are serving sentences in the work-house, running from 30 to 60 days.

The Methodist broke dirt for their new parsonage yesterday, which is to cost $1,000, in addition to the price of the lot. The major portion of the money has been raised and the work will be pushed to an early completion. Messrs. Boney & Allen will superintend it.

There has been another change in the dispatcher's office. Chief J. M. Scott has resigned and will return to the Louisville office, while Mr. W. F. Sheridan, who has held first trick in that office, will take his place here. Misses Alice and Bessie remain at school here.

The eclipse of the moon could not have occurred at a better time nor on a finer night for observation, and our people watched the exhibition with great interest as it slowly went into the shadow and finally became entirely obscured. Then from the reflected light of the earth the orb took on a reddish tint and hung like a ball of fire in the heavens till a faint light appeared on the east end. It grew and grew till a little past 8 o'clock the full face of the moon was again seen on an almost cloudless sky. The time of the various changes showed that our town clock was about as near right as it can be.

Mrs. J. C. Ottenheimer, land and emigration agent of the Canadian Pacific, with office at New York, arrived yesterday with a party of capitalists, who came to inspect the Swiss colonies at Bernsbach and Ottenheim and perhaps make some investments. They are Charles Frothingham, founder of the Bernsbach colony and head of the emigration bureau and banking house of Zwilchenbart & Co., Basel, Switzerland, John Friedrich, editor and publisher of the American Swiss Gazette, New York, and John N. Spang, of the firm of Zwilchenbart & Martin Gasser & Co., New York, bankers and brokers. They will return here Wednesday and spend several days at Ottenheim and other parts of the county.

The habeas corpus case of David Grant for the possession of his child, which he claimed that his wife, with the assistance of Robert Land, took from his sister's house by force, was tried before Judge Varmon Friday, when a very wretched state of affairs was developed. The man swore that owing to his wife's fondness for Mr. Land he drove her away about seven years ago. She made no effort to take the child and he has since cared for it. He further proved that the woman is not the proper person to raise children, as she is an adulteress, who twice since their parting has given birth to illegitimate children. Grant was a drunkard, a gambler and a keeper of a house of prostitution. After hearing the testimony, Judge Varmon said that while he thought that under the proof neither party was capable of raising a child, and neither should have it, he would take the least of two evils and give it to the mother. Mr. Land appeared with the woman and assisted her materially in making out her case.

McGINTY'S Troubles—Walton's Opera House—to-night—17th.

CALL at J. B. Foster's and see the best feed cutter in the world. It will pay you.

For Rent.—Nice two-story house on Main street, with good well and cistern both in yard. All in good repair. J. K. Van Arsdale.

R. G. Alford, trustee of the jury fund, says that the last court cost $267 for juries, against $1,000 to $1,500 at some of the other terms.

For Rent.—The double store room now occupied by Joe S. Jones, possession given the first day of January, 1892. Apply to R. Williams, Stanford, Ky.

JAMES SHIMMERS, who perhaps fatally wounded a negro prisoner, William Hamsford, at Harville, when he seized and tried to hold him in jail. Hamsford has done time in the penitentiary, where he deliberately permitted his hand to be cut off to keep from work.

The work on this division of the L. & N. has grown so greatly that an assistant master of trains has been appointed. Capt. Duck Lawton, the popular passenger conductor, has been given the position and he will assist Capt. Frank Harris and spend his time mostly at Livingston and Corbin.

Is the classification of towns for a general charter, Stanford is placed by the authorities at Frankfort in the 5th class, stating that according to the census she has only 1,385 population. This is a mistake and a pretty good sized one. The number of citizens in the town limits is over 1,000 and in the suburbs and at Rowland nearly 2,000.

GREAT complaint is made about hogs running at large and foraging on others than their owners. There is a law against this evil, which the council ought to have enforced or repealed, but since one member has a dozen or more hogs at large, no action will likely be taken, until we give a few of the whys and wherefores of the situation.

The building of the Baptist parsonage on the lot donated by J. M. Hall, on Lower Main, has been let to Jones and Blankenship, from the top of the foundation up, for $1,200. Mr. B. K. Wear puts in the foundation for $225. The house is to be a copy of Mr. A. J. Earp's house, with the rooms a little larger, and is to be completed by Jan. 1st if possible.

On the 13th of October we wrote to A. Burt, Esq., Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service at Cincinnati, that the Lexington Journals of the previous Friday had not gotten to Hustonville the following Monday and asking him to see if the carelessness could not be remedied. The next day he began an investigation and the entire correspondence, covering many pages, together with the note we sent, was returned to us Friday. The process may interest our readers so we give a synopsis of it. He first asked Mrs. Courts when the papers left here. She answered, then he inquired of Capt. H. E. Jenkins, chief clerk, what clerk was on that morning and was told C. G. Kenzel. He was written to and responded that he put the sacks off at Junction City as usual. This took the blame from this route and finding that F. C. Durand was the clerk on the L. & N. train, which should have taken the papers South, he was written to, but had no recollection of the receipt of the papers on the date named and did not remember to have carried any mail for Moreland, by that day. Mr. Burt next wrote to J. H. Minks, postmaster at Moreland, if he had any recollection of the package. His reply was that paper mail for Hustonville passed through in boxed sacks which are not opened by him. He could only state that no package laid over in his office. Mrs. Adela Woods, postmaster at Hustonville, was next communicated with. She remembered that the Friday papers did not reach there till Monday afternoon, but failed to notice the label of the sacks. The superintendent suggested that hereafter Mrs. Woods retain the labels so that he can locate the party at fault to which she replied as follows, showing that she doesn't like for the Lexington Journals to fail to come: "I will certainly in future retain the slips and send to you in order that we may ascertain the cause of the carelessness and if possible correct it." This was the last letter except one from Mr. Burt to us enclosing the correspondence in which he says he was unable to locate the party at fault and adding: "Your attention is also invited to additional steps taken, which will assist us in obtaining the information last named in future cases. A rigid order has also been issued to clerks in Cincinnati and Chattanooga train No. 1 to put forth greater effort to get out this mail between Junction City and Moreland, a run of about five miles." There is a point here that Mr. Burt overlooks. Our papers leave here on night train No. 26 and when they are thrown off at Junction City Capt. Bell, the transfer agent, says the sack is put on a train going to Cincinnati, from which it is delivered to No. 1, so that the clerk can have all the time he wants for distribution. Our patrons may always rest assured that their papers leave here on time and that we use every effort to have them promptly delivered. If they are not the mail men must get the "blaming," not us.

NEW YORK CITY

SPRINGFIELD, OHIO

The city has advertised for bids for pavements in front of the property of J. B. Owens and also of Mrs. Lott Holmes.

ADJUSTED.—Mr. C. D. Thompson, adjuster for the London, Liverpool and Globe, was up yesterday and settled with Mrs. N. A. Tyree to her complete satisfaction, as he always does. None of her goods were burned, but Mr. T. said they were the worst broken up lot he ever saw. He was willing enough to pay the amount he allowed, $237.30, as he realized that nothing but the most heroic efforts saved her house from the fire.

A WAS about whom nothing could be learned, except that his name was probably Stephen DeLong, was around Moreland last week and giving unmistakable signs of insanity. Squire Smiley took him in charge and sent for the Sheriff. Deputy S. W. Menefee responded and brought him here where he was tried Saturday. He could give no account of himself and whatever of his jargon could be recognized as language was pronounced French. He is supposed to have been a bear man and losing the animal it upset his mind. The jury pronounced him insane and he was taken to Lexington Sunday by Deputy Menefee.

DIED FROM THE SHOCK.—Frick Williams, a young negro man, had his right arm crushed and his right leg broken by being run over by train No. 24, Sunday. He was no doubt drunk, and lying down on the track near the Maywood section house he fell asleep. The passenger train was a few minutes late and Phil Soden, who was at the throttle, was letting it down the grade at over 40 miles an hour when it struck the man. At the point he lay on the curve the engineer could not have seen him in time to have stopped had he been running unusually slow. Williams was brought here and his arm amputated by Drs. J. E. Peyton and H. C. Nunnally. He was conscious on his arrival and denied that he was drunk, but he was in the habit of drinking and his story is not believed. After the operation he seemed to rally satisfactorily, but later he began sinking and by 9 o'clock was dead.
